How Does CoolSculpting for Men Work?

CoolSculpting is a safe and effective treatment. There's no surgery, no incisions and no anesthetic is required. The doctor applies the CoolSculpting wand to the specific areas where you want to remove unwanted fat. The CoolSculpting device uses precise temperatures to freeze the unwanted fat cells and kill them, while leaving the surrounding healthy tissues intact. Your body will then naturally flush out the dead fat cells over time. You should start seeing results in as little as three weeks! The procedure is so quick and painless that you can often have it done over the course of a lunch break — and then go straight back to work.
